Local Physicians Conduct Four New First Aid Classes

Rushing Daly City's first aid program for added disaster defense, R. L. Crane jr., director of the Civilian Defense Council's rescue squads, declared yesterday that four new classes will be added this week to the six classes already launched.

The new classes will be special courses in standard first aid for air raid wardens. The courses will be instructed by four local physicians: Dr. W. C. Lynch; Dr. Ivan T. Budaeff, Dr. A. A. Shaghoian, and Dr. O. A. Ring.

Two of the new classes will be instructed at the Grace Nazarene church, while the other two classes still seek a suitable location. The time for the classes has not yet been decided, but it will be made to suit both wardens and their instructors.

Classes which began last week include five standard classes and an advanced class. The advanced class is taught by Crane in the Administration building of the Jefferson school district. The hours for the advanced course are from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Standard classes are taught at the Company 1 firehouse of the Daly City Fire Department, 188 Santa Barbara avenue by Albert Biggs, Ella Redkey and Bert L. Meritt. Biggs' classes are held on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Classes of the latter two instructors are held during the same hours on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The other two standard classes are held in the Administration building under the direction of Juanita Young and Mrs. Isabella Henshaw. Mrs. Henshaw's classes are taught on Monday and Friday afternoons, while Miss Young supervises classes on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Crane said that a possible thirteen rescue squads will be formed by the Civilian Defense Council when the courses are completed. He estimated that 65 people will be needed to comprise the rescue squads.

Additional standard courses will

Police Chief Warns D. C. Car Owners

In reporting a large increase in automobile thefts throughout the state since sales have been frozen, Police Chief James G. Reardon warned all car owners in Daly City to keep their machines under cover when not in use.

Reardon declared that the precaution was taken for the owner's own protection, and he advised drivers to lock their cars while parked on the street. Although the police department has not been advised of actual automobile thefts in Daly City since the rationing system went into effect, they expect to receive increased reports of stolen automobiles, tires, and other accessories in 1942.

Motives for many of the thefts

Police To Instruct Auxiliary Officers

Preparing 160 auxiliary police officers for duty during blackouts and possible air raids is the chief task which has been assigned to the Daly City Police department by the Civilian Defense Council.

Regular officers of the department are supervising instruction of the volunteer police in enforcing the laws, chiefly the emergency ordinance which was ad-

Red Cross Rushes Production in Workshop

Busily engaged at the Daly City theatre hall are volunteers of the local Red Cross, who have organized a workshop for the production of garments to be distributed by the county Red Cross chapter. The ladies were organized by Mrs. Horace Fellows, town chairman, in December, and have turned out 57 garments in five days of workshop activity. Chairman of this production committee in Daly City is Mrs. Julia Jordan.

The local workshop receives orders for garments from the San Mateo County chapter. Garments which the group has completed have been convalescent robes, skirts, dresses, stockings and a variety of other wearing apparel.

"Keep 'Em Reading" New Victory Slogan

"If you can't put your shoulder to the wheel, give a book," and "Keep 'em reading," is the appeal of the Victory Book Campaign which was launched Monday in Daly City. The drive will continue until February 12.

Not only to provide recreation for men in the service, but, also the books are to keep these minds trained, the minds of the soldiers, sailors and marines which are so vitally needed for complete victory. The Daly City public library was named as local headquarters for the book campaign, and Mrs. Horace Fellows, local town chairman of the American Red Cross, was appointed to head the drive in this community.

The Victory Book Campaign appeals to anyone who can spare one or more books for service men. The books can be deposited at either the Daly City public library, 6351 Mission street, or Safeway store, 6318 Mission street. Mrs. Jean O'Rourke, librarian, announced that the books may be deposited in the slot at the front door of the library during the drive.

Workshop plans in the present emergency surge ahead for Daly City's unit of the American Red Cross with continued production of clothing in their headquarters in the Daly City Theatre hall.

Under the direction of Production Chairman Mrs. Julia Jordan, the 38 ladies of the workshop completed 35 garments in two days work in the past week. Two reports from Mrs. Horace Fellows, town chairman, show a total of 57 garments completed in the five days they have worked since the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Fellows announced that the record of production is especially remarkable, since the work has been accomplished with but four sewing machines. There is a desperate need for more machines, and Mrs. Fellows made an appeal this week for machines

Announce Draft Registrars' Names

Faced with the task of registering an estimated 3000 men on February 16, the Daly City Draft board reported this week that ample volunteers had answered their call for registrars.

Dr. J. C. McGovern, after calling for volunteer clerks, Wednesday, stated that a sufficient number of volunteers responded by Thursday morning. The volunteers contacted Dr. McGovern at his office on Wednesday, and calls continued to pour in all week.

"It is wonderful to see the fine response," said Dr. McGovern, "that the people of this community made in offering their services."

"The draft board appreciates this fine co-operation. There is a big job to do in conducting this registration, particularly in our territory, but, with the help of the registrars, the job can be done."

Because of the need for army expansion to wartime proportions, the draft boards of the nation were ordered to conduct the registration for men between the ages of 20 to 44. It will not be necessary for men who have signed up in the first draft to register in this second signing.

In reporting the huge number of registrants expected, Dr. McGovern revealed that separate registrations will be conducted in five districts of the local draft board. Daly City, Colma, Sharp

Town Council Discuss Progress of C. D. Work

Preparation for the emergency was the keynote of discussion at the regular meeting of the Town Council of Colma, Monday.

E. A. Weisenburger, city clerk, reported to the council on the progress in civilian defense, declaring that every residence in the city has been issued a set of instructions to follow during any emergency.

Councilman M. Jensen proposed the establishment of an emergency station in the town hall. This was followed by the council passing a motion to have a section of the building prepared for the station, and made available for the Red Cross.

County Unifies Plan Of Training

Three major steps in a centrally located training program marked the unified plan of civil protection of San Mateo County Civilian Defense Council, it was announced this week by Arthur H. Quirnbach, head of public information for the county.

First Aid training plans were recently completed by the county council, and classes have now found a place in the local civilian defense plans in the county. Classes in Daly City were introduced last week by R. L. Crane jr., First Aid chairman of Daly City.

The second development in the county training program was the organization of instructors for fire protection in all sections of the county. Instructors were trained in fighting fires started by magnesium incendiary bombs, and modern methods of fire warfare. The instructors were trained

The time is set for 12 noon, and routine business concerning the Lions club will be taken up at the meeting. No special program of speakers has been arranged.

Fully Equipped First Aid Station At High School

Safeguarding civilian lives and minimizing personal injury to residents of Daly City was the chief aim of the city's smooth functioning Civilian Defense machine as they established a fully equipped emergency medical unit at Jefferson Union high school Monday.

Executing the establishment of the medical and first aid station, Joe Sarto, chairman of hospital facilities, praised the location of the station. Before a group of first aid students and instructors, Sarto declared that it was ready for any emergency with the equipment it now maintains.

An authority on hospital facilities and the requirements in establishing such institutions, Sarto is the manager of the Villa sanitarium in Daly City. He was named to head the committee for hospitals and medical units by the Civilian Defense Council when the group organized to prepare for disaster.

Located in the basement of the high school building, the medical station adjoins the dining room of the high school students. The room is equipped with an operating table, surgical supplies, disinfectants, surgical tools and a full line of gauze, bandages, tourniquets, sutures and first aid supplies. The equipment was purchased by the city council for the medical station. Sarto made the purchases for the council.

In commenting on the location of the station, Sarto explained that the spacious dining room adjoining the station added to the effectiveness of the unit. He demonstrated how a large number of people could be accommodated there in case of a major disaster.

The station is a solid structure of re-inforced concrete, making a strong shelter against air raids, except in the case of a direct hit, and the entire floor is equipped for blackouts. The Civilian Defense Council expects to use the station chiefly for first aid and surgical cases. It will not be used as a hospital, however, since it is not equipped with bed facilities.

The medical unit's establishment was not the extent of this particular development in civilian defense, however. Six first aid classes went into action last week, and plans were in progress for four more courses to be launched this week, according to R. L. Crane jr., chairman of the rescue

Demolition Squad Increase Personnel

Organized under the Daly City Civilian Defense Council, the demolition squad's personnel has been increased from 49 to 75 building mechanics, according to latest reports from P. J. Kelly, chairman of the demolition division.

The demolition squads will hold their first regular meeting, Friday, at 8 p.m. in the city hall. Kelly declared that, at the meeting, they will decide upon a regular meeting time, and also discuss means of securing additional volunteers for demolition duty. He stated that, within the next few weeks, he hopes to raise the number of building mechanics to 200.

Leaders of the six districts in the city will be required to present a detailed report at Friday's

Campus Fashions

The Senior ball is just a week from Friday. You had better hurry and get your gown, for this is one of the biggest occasions of the school year.

Fashion experts are featuring darling gowns for teen-age girls. These "dresser-uppers" come within the modest budget range.

A darling model for prom trotters is a shirred taffeta skirt and tight fitted velvet bodice model. Fashion experts predict it will become one of the most popular models on this year's fashion parade.

For the practical girl, a white crepe skirt with accordion pleats, is just the thing. A blouse change will give you an entirely new outfit.

A sparkling combination for the ball, is a gold and white knit blouse to top your skirt. If you are a blue eyed blonde, a blue blouse with a white corsage pinned to your shoulder, is stunning. To add chic to your ensemble wear a blue bow in your hair and top your outfit with a wrapper of blue or white. To keep your hair in place while enroute to the dance a flimsy blue scarf, large, clipped to your hair with a brilliant clip is perfect.

Time Is Short; Hurry To Apply For '42 Car License

War-time distractions seem to be making many motorists forget that they must renew automobile registration for 1942 or soon face unpleasant penalties in the shape of increased fees. Applications are lagging far behind the usual volume, the California State Automobile association declared today, urging car owners not to let February 4, end of the renewal period catch up with them.

After that date the registration fee will be doubled, $6 instead of $3, and 50 per cent will be added to the vehicle license fee levied at the rate of $1.75 per $100 of car valuation.

Renewal of registration is being conducted at offices of the State Department of Motor Vehicles and Highway Patrol, and at offices of the automobile association for its members.

Motorists renewing registration are issued narrow metal strips with the 1942 imprint for placing across the tops of their 1941 plates. The amount of fees is stated on the 1941 registration card, which must be presented.

Outline Progress In Combating Epidemic

Preparatory to the commencement of the nation-wide Infantile Paralysis March of Dimes campaign, which started January 12, Basil O'Connor, foundation president, in a message to Dan Marovich, Northern California chairman, outlined one of the important phases of the fight against the polio scourge that has been completed—a "tooling-up" comparable to that in defense industries in the last eighteen months.

"The ultimate solution of the mystery of the disease still is for the future," O'Connor said, but tools have been forged to do the work." He continued:

"Like the defense plant that cannot turn out bombers until the machinery and tools have been produced with which to make bombers and tanks, our laboratories up to now have been handicapped in their search for a prevention and cure for infantile paralysis.

"The tools men of science now have are beginning to cut down to the real problems. Because of this progress within four years, after centuries of waiting for the right tools, nothing must stand in the way of continued progress.

"One of the results of the war on infantile paralysis is that we see our problems more clearly because of continuous and co-ordinated study; this relieves the panicky fear which formerly resulted when cases of infantile paralysis were discovered in various communities. Now, although there is no cure, the logical sequence of events, stripped of their outer veil of mystery, is known. Treatment and convalescence are charted, improved each year. We know what not to do as well as what to do."

"My Sister Eileen" Opens Saturday

The nation's newest comedy riot, "My Sister Eileen," which has achieved runs of more than a year in New York and eight months in Chicago, will open a limited engagement at the Geary theatre, San Francisco, on Saturday night, January 17.

The comedy, which was adapted by two ace Hollywood scenarists, Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov, from the whimsical short stories by Ruth McKenney in the humor weekly, The New Yorker, opened in New York on December 26, 1940, and was acclaimed by the critics for its mirth-provoking qualities. Walter Winchell called it "A honey of a show. You will enjoy every minute." The New York Times' distinguished critic, Brooks Atkinson, wrote: "A completely gay comedy. A gale of theatre laughter," while the New York Post suggested: "Do yourself a favor and see 'My Sister Eileen.' It is an uproarious, side-splitting comedy."

The comedy is concerned with the adventures of Ruth and Eileen Sherwood, sisters of Columbus, Ohio, who come to New York in search of careers, Ruth has writing ambitions, while Eileen, more attractive, seeks to become an actress.

Miss McKenney's sketches have been woven into a comedy fabric as wacky as could be desired. Under the inventive direction of the noted author of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "You Can't Take It With You," George S. Kaufman, the work has been turned into a sort of burlesque "Street Scene," with half the action taking place in the apartment and half on the sidewalk outside. A big curtainless window below the pavement level lets in the noise, the peeping Toms, and all the gusty and gaudy color of life in the Greenwich Village art colony.

Featured in the cast are Guy Robertson, remembered for his leading roles in "The Great Waltz" and "Rose Marie," Marcy Wescott, who achieved overnight stardom on Broadway with her performances in "The Boys From Syracuse" and "Too Many Girls," Philip Loeb, who has appeared on Broadway in "June Moon," "Flying Colors," "Room Service" and many Theatre Guild plays.

There will be Sunday performances at the Geary, with popular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Daly City Theatre To Show Whimsical Screen Story

Interweaving a striking commentary on Americanism with its whimsical story of a man who sold his soul to the devil and got it back again, "All That Money Can Buy," based on the Stephen Vincent Benet story, "The Devil and Daniel Webster," comes to the screen of the Daly City theatre, tomorrow, with the advance reputation of being one of the most memorable films of recent years.

Edward Arnold and Walter Huston share top honors in the RKO Radio picture version of Stephen Vincent Benet's remarkable story, with Anne Shirley and James Craig in the romantic leads and Jane Darwell, Simone Simon, Gene Lockhart and John Qualen in the other featured roles.

The action is laid in the 1840's in a New Hampshire community. Jabez Stone, a young and newly-married farmer, discouraged with his continued bad luck, unexpectedly encounters The Devil, locally known as Mr. Scratch. Mr. Scratch agrees to give Jabez everything that money can buy for the next seven years in return for his soul.

This is the beginning of the young farmer's financial progress. A protegee of Mr. Scratch's, Belle, wins him away from his wife.

But as the seven-year period draws to an end, Jabez begins to worry about his bargain. In despair he appeals to his wife, and she lays the case before Daniel Webster. Webster demands a jury trial and Mr. Scratch summons up the jury: Benedict Arnold, Simon Girty, Captain Kidd and others of their ilk—traitors, murderers, scoundrels, all. Webster makes an impassioned plea in behalf of Jabez and so moves the jurymen that they tear up the contract and acquit Jabez, who hastens to make amends for his past.

Arnold's performance as the silver-tongued Webster is said to be his finest one to date, while Huston portrays the unctuous Mr. Scratch in brilliant style. Craig as Jabez, Miss Shirley as his wife, Miss Darwell as his mother and Miss Simon as the temptress who breaks up his home, along with Lockhart as a local squire and Qualen as the village money-lender, have the other featured roles in the unusual offering.

Companion feature on the new bill will be "Ice-Capades," with Dorothy Lewis and James Ellison.

SELLING HIS SOUL FOR GOLD

Awed by the sight of more wealth than he had ever dreamed existed, Jabez (James Craig) falls an easy victim to the devil's (Walter Huston) insidious suggestion that he exchange his soul for the pile of gold. One of the high spots in William Dieterle's smash hit production, "All That Money Can Buy," an RKO Radio release. Other featured players are Edward Arnold and Anne Shirley. The film opens tomorrow at the Daly City theatre.

Miss Barbara Jean Linden Claimed At Altar By Henry Volkman

Walking down the aisle of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church on the arm of her father, popular

Miss Barbara Jean Linden exchanged wedding vows with Henry Volkman Jr. The impressive ceremony was held Saturday evening at 7 p.m. Performing the ceremony was Father Thomas Phelan.

The bride was beautifully attired in a white slipper satin gown, fashioned with a tight bodice, which fell away to a huge skirt and train; pearls trimmed the high neck. Nestled in her curls was a crown of pearls to which was attached a tulle finger tipped veil. Her bouquet was a spray of white bouvardia in the middle of which was a beautiful orchid.

Hold "In Service" Classes At Jefferson

"In Service" classes for San Mateo county Recreation leaders were held, Wednesday, at Jefferson Union high school. Classes were instructed by Miss Juanita Young and Coach Albert Biggs, physical education instructors at Jefferson high.

Attended by twenty leaders, representing San Bruno, South San Francisco, San Mateo, and Daly City, the training included demonstrations in basketball and badminton by the physical education classes at the high school.

At the completion of the training, the recreation leaders of the county praised the instruction, expressing much benefit derived from the classes in discharging programs in their own departments. Mrs. Marie Burton, director of the Daly City WPA Recreation department, said that the directors gained much value from the classes.

Mrs. Burton expressed appreciation to Miss Young and Coach Biggs for their co-operation in instructing the group.

Katherine Cornell To Star At Curran

With "Rose Burke," a new play written especially for her by Henri Bernstein, Katharine Cornell rounds out a dozen productions as America's only actress-manager. Most of the twelve have been successes; some of them have been smash hits. All of them have been interesting and important.

In 1931 Miss Cornell first presented "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," her initial offering under her own banner. Since then her record includes: "Lucrece," "Alien Corn," "Candida," "Romeo and Juliet," "Flowers of the Forest," "Saint Joan," "The Wingless Victory," "Herod and Mariamne," "No Time for Comedy" and "The Doctor's Dilemma."

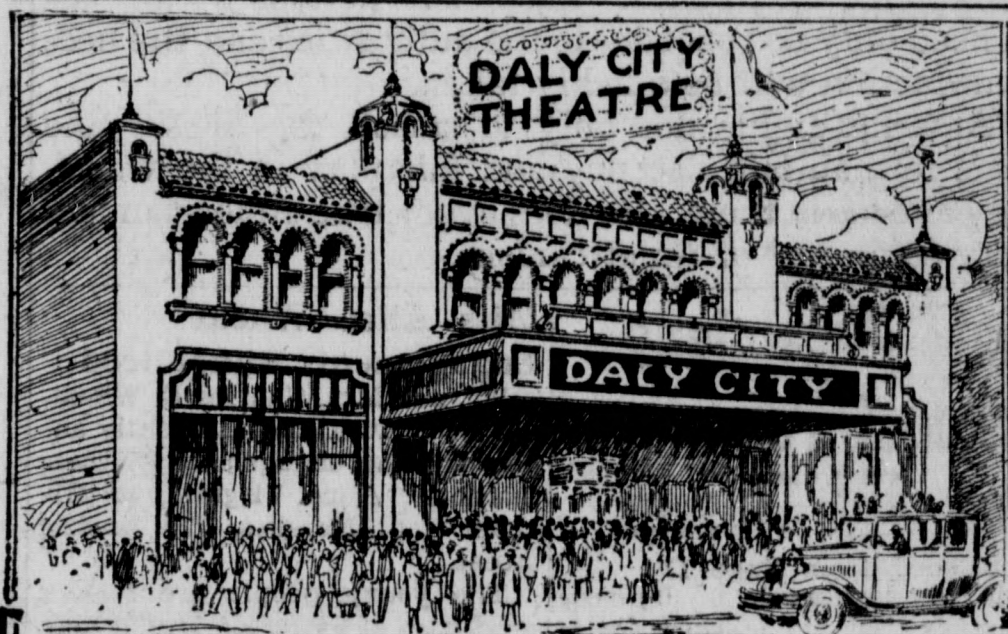

"Rose Burke," which opens at the Curran next week, is Bernstein's first script in a language other than his own. Author, producer and director of more than twenty-five successes at his own theatres in Paris, the distinguished French playwright has been in this country since the summer of 1940.

Miss Cornell enacts the title role, a celebrated sculptor in contemporary New York. Opposite her is Philip Merivale in the part of James Foreman, a man of affairs entrusted with a weighty government mission.

Guthrie McClintic, who has staged all Miss Cornell's plays beginning with "The Green Hat," in which she became a star, has again directed his wife in "Rose Burke." Donald Oenslager designed the setting. Miss Cornell's costumes are the creation of Mainbocher.

BE AMERICAN!

The defense of America and its way of life is a high task, and not one which falls alone on the valiant fighters in the armed forces.

The challenge to that way of life has threatened not only America's ocean outposts but has put democracy to a severe test at home, since ours is a land peopled by the strains of many races and many nations. In the hysteria of war crisis, misdirected feelings of patriotism are all too often vented against loyal Americans of foreign origin or upon innocent aliens. Energies which might be constructively used in the real defense of this nation, or the destruction of its actual enemies, are too often being foolishly squandered in firing, boycotting, discriminating against, and sometimes persecuting, guiltless persons of foreign extraction.

This misguided zeal has even infected school yards where, in more than one instance, American born youngsters of foreign parentage have been beaten up by their one-time playmates. America wants these children of foreign parents to grow up to be loyal citizens, with the honest conviction that life in the United States is far superior to life under the brutal yoke of a Mikado, Fuehrer or Duce. We shall gain little present or future profit if we deal out to innocent persons or their children the same kind of treatment totalitarian regimes administer their helpless minorities.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation and all other law-enforcement agencies are ably and efficiently corraling every alien who may endanger the nation's security. There is no need for any civilian to take the law into his own hands. Suspicious actions by any alien need only be reported to the authorities and the necessary action will be quickly taken.

America fights not only to smash the Axis. She fights to maintain decency and fair play in the world. She believes in them. So does every true American and every supporter of Americanism.

Police Chief Warns

of automobiles are not actually to steal the car, but, rather to strip the machine of all removable accessories. Numerous thieves were reported to operate by stealing the tires, and then abandoning the car. This type of theft has shown a large increase since tires have not been available for purchase to civilians.

"Automobile thefts in Daly City have been surprisingly low in the past five years," said Reardon, "but the police department is prepared to cope with a definite increase in stolen automobiles."

By making use of garages to a greater extent and locking machines, he declared that car owners can aid the police department so that police efforts may be devoted to civilian protection, as well as safeguarding their cars.

Receiving orders and materials from the San Mateo county chapter, the local workshop will meet on Wednesdays for the next three or four weeks. Previous to this week the classes had been meeting two days a week, but, since the workshop has not yet received its allotment of material, the group will function only once a week. Mrs. Fellows said, however, that they expect to get additional material in the next few weeks.

There is also a vital need for additional volunteers to serve in the Motor corps. Function of the Motor corps is to transport supplies and Red Cross workers from and to the different centers of workshop activity. Mrs. A. Milo, 3343 San Jose avenue, is the chairman of this division. Volunteers for Motor corps duty can reach Mrs. Milo by telephone at ELkridge 4731.

Aside from production and production divisions, the Daly City chapter also maintains a canteen division for the distribution of food in time of emergency.

America's entrance into the war motivated the three divisions organizing for emergency duty in Daly City in December, when Mrs. Fellows appointed chairmen for the three divisions on instruction from the county chapter. Registration of the volunteers began on December 18, and the workshop went into action the following week.

Miss Betty Powers Bride of Jack Aplin

Miss Betty Powers, 155 Palmetto avenue, Daly City, became the bride of Jack Aplin, San Francisco, at a wedding ceremony at 371 Faxton avenue, San Francisco on Friday evening.

Following the ceremony, a dinner party was held at a downtown restaurant.

The bride wore blue and carried a corsage of gardenias and roses. She was attended by Mrs. Margaret Rinabarger. Relatives of both bride and bridegroom attended the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Powers, 155 Palmetto avenue, Daly City.

After completing the training, the instructors were assigned to the local councils to train air raid wardens in fire protection.

Thirdly, the County Civilian Defense Council recently began preparations for police officers of the cities in the county to instruct the auxiliary officers. This plan is motivated by the need for an organized education in civilian defense and the many problems arising in blackouts that, at the present time, are dealt with by the auxiliary police by rudimentary methods.

Dr. Carl Benninghoven, chief of the county emergency medical service, announced the casualty stations selected. South San Francisco hospital, Mills memorial hospital, and Notre Dame college at Belmont are the chief casualty centers.

Ten amateur radio stations and a portable transmitter were established by the communications committee. The council has applied to the federal communications commission for a permit to operate these stations.

Selection of deputy coroners in the county resulted in naming W. C. Lasswell and Co. as chief deputy office in this area.

With a quota set for ten million books in the nation, the Victory Book Campaign is sponsored jointly by the American Red Cross, the American Library Association and the United Service Organizations. Every organization in the city is a committee member of this campaign.

Mrs. Fellows will name an executive board committee for Daly City soon, and this committee will be the nucleus of the local drive.

Regarding the type of books wanted, Mrs. O'Rourke stated that she received orders from the San Mateo county organization that the enlisted men want books that they would read at home. Mechanical and technical handbooks, business volumes, histories and travel books were suggested. For fiction books, they read mysteries, westerns, humor, adventure and historical novels.

First donor to respond to the call for books in Daly City was Mrs. J. Jaymot, 36 Mirian street.

Nassau, Capital of Bahamas

Nassau, capital city of the Bahamas, was named after William III, prince of Orange, by acts passed in 1695 by the lord proprietors. These acts authorized the building of a city and forts to replace those destroyed by the Spaniards in 1684.

Defense Council Says "Souvenir" Masks N. G.

In a warning to the general public, the San Mateo County Defense Council cautioned civilians not to depend upon "souvenir" gas masks from the first World War.

Received by the council from the Federal Office of Civilian Defense, the notice also contained a warning against accepting a gas mask without the approval of the United States Army's Chemical Warfare service, regardless of any claims of the manufacturer. Although the industrial types of gas masks used by mines are entirely safe for their own use, it was learned that they are seldom suitable as protection against the deadly war gases.

The army proved the worthlessness of the first World War's gas masks for use in this war by showing the deterioration of the filling, and the stiffness and age of the face-piece.

SOUPS

For the Gay
Meals of Winter

Let your soup set the tone for the festive occasion

says Dorothy Greig

ONE good result of all this stir on nutrition . . . it's making it smart once more to eat with honest relish. Those of us who have always had fun eating can emerge into the sunlight of polite approval again. From now on, too, the hostess who knows her foods will enjoy heightened prestige.

Delicious as a party soup is the new condensed black bean soup, garnished with hard cooked egg.

For example, consider that very beginning of a successful meal . . . soup. A distinctive soup is not only eaten with zest for its own fine flavor, but it sets the tone for the rest of the meal.

There are various ways to achieve an individual soup. We can, if we wish, combine two soups in the clever modern fashion.

Another smart idea is to search out new soups and use them while they're still something of a novelty. New at the moment, for instance, is condensed black bean soup . . . a thick soup, deep appetizing brown in color, smooth and delicate on the palate.

Condensed cream of potato is another newcomer. This particular one combines beautifully with other soups, too. Here is a party bisque evolved with its aid:

Holiday Bisque with Sherry

1 can condensed cream of potato soup
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup cream (light)
1 can condensed asparagus soup
1 can milk (using soup can for measure)
4 teaspoons sherry (optional)

To prepare the Cream of Potato Soup:

Add the 1 1/2 cups milk and 1/2 cup cream to the cream of potato soup, then heat. While hot rub through a sieve and then a fine strainer so that a very smooth, creamy potato purée results.

To prepare the Asparagus Soup:

Combine the asparagus soup with 1 can of milk, then mix the potato soup with the asparagus soup. Heat, but do not boil.

Add the sherry just before serving. Serves 6.

Garnish the soup with a sprinkling of paprika and chopped parsley.

Note:—If you have an electric blender prepare the cream of potato soup by simply beating the soup just as it comes from the can until slices of potato are well broken, then add the milk and continue beating.

Or take two every day favorites and combine them with this delicious result:

Cream of Celery and Chicken Soup

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups milk
1 can condensed celery soup
1 can condensed chicken soup

Melt the butter in a saucepan, add the flour and cook until frothy. Then add the milk and cook until thickened. To this thin cream sauce add the celery soup and the chicken soup. Heat, but do not boil.

Garnish each serving of soup with a dash of paprika and finely chopped parsley. Serves 5-6.

Torpedoes by Mouth

On some German destroyers, torpedoes are fired with the mouth, asserts Collier's. With his eyes at the range finder and his hands on the tube-aiming controls, the gunner merely has to blow into a "peashooter" to actuate the trigger.

The installation will be made by the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

A motion was passed by the city council granting a permit to Foster and Kleiser Advertising company for the erection of a signboard on Mission street and Citrus avenue. The council passed the motion following the reading of a communication from the advertising concern, in which the city council was advised of the type of advertising that would appear on the signboard.

Mayor John J. Fahey sr. called for an account of the progress in civilian defense. Arthur J. Bodien, chairman of the Civilian Defense Council, made the report, reviewing the work which has been done since the declaration of war in December. Following a suggestion by Bodien, the city council agreed to hold a joint meeting with the Civilian Defense Council, Friday at 7 p.m.

Bodien also made a report to the council on the drilling of the new well for the water department.
